Chamber Gets Jazzed

The Colorado Springs Chamber Music Society will present a free program Wednesday designed to prove that chamber music is not isolated to the 15th century.

The society will perform for the public at 8 p.m. in the Assembly Theatre of the First United Methodist Church, 420 N. Nevada Ave.

The program will include a variety of pieces ranging from "old favorites" to contemporary jazz.

A special performance of a contemporary composition by Rolf Johnson, a musician in the Norad Band as well as the Commanders Jazz Band, will highlight the program.

In addition the group will perform four other numbers under the direction of Michael Gibson, also a Norad Band member. Included in the program are two pieces by Giovanni Gabrieli, "Serenade in E flat Major," by Richard Strauss, "Serenade in D minor," by Dvorak, and Stravinsky's beautiful "Symphonies of Wind Instruments."

CONTEMPORARY CHAMBER MUSIC — Michael Gibson, music director for the Colorado Springs Chamber Music Society, takes his group through rehearsal in preparation for a public performance Wednesday.
